On the cross, what happens is exactly the opposite: Jesus is oblivious to himself and his own needs which he will express only afterwards and he focuses his attention on those that are with him, whether they be his enemies -those who are torturing him- two unknown individuals -the two men being crucified with him- or someone as close to him as his own mother. While on the cross, He felt horrific separation from the Father, bearing the sins of the world. Now it is not just the religious leaders or the soldiers that mock Jesus, but even one of the criminals. VerseOnly.Search Results in Other Versions. Re-type Password.
